G. Arizona Department of Health Services Anti-Vaping Campaign

Commissioner Cox, Chair, introduced Wayne Tormala, Chief of the Bureau of Tobacco & Chronic Disease. Mr. Tormala shared that vaping oftentimes will hook teens on Nicotine even though they have never smoked a cigarette. With the recent trending of vaping, it is still too early to know the long-term effects that it has on the young developing brain. Yet, many still believe that it is harmless. He added that the Arizona Attorney General's Office conducts stings to crack down on the sales of vaping products to teens. Of those tested, 97% contain very large amounts of Nicotine. He added that the Centers for Disease Control have listed vaping as a major health concern and has not approved vaping as a tobacco cessation device. He passed around three vaping devices that look like everyday items that one would carry- an asthma inhaler, a lipstick case, and a small discrete cartridge that could easily be hidden. He said that in the recent Arizona Youth Survey, 50% of youth surveyed said that have tried vaping at least once. 20% of the youth surveyed said that they vape daily. Tormala added that males tend to vape more than females. He showcased the Facts Over Flavor Campaign to help curb teen vaping. He showed several clips that are currently running on social media. The agency tracks the analytics of the ads to gauge their reach and to keep the messaging fresh.

- Commissioner Cox asked if they also saw THC and CBD oils in the sting tests. Tormala said that there have been cases where the vaping devices have been used for other drugs.
- Commissioner FireThunder asked about the effects of Vaping and if it can produce "popcorn lung." Tormala said that it is quite possible, but vaping is so new; there is not a lot of health data out on it.

H. Yavapai College Collegiate Recovery Program

Commissioner Cox, Chair, introduced Judy Brennan, Director of Alcohol & Drug Prevention at Yavapai College. Along with her were several students from the College's Recovery Club. The focus of the group has been on helping spread awareness on substance abuse and mental illness and how it does not have to hinder their success in college. Brennan said that they try to limit the stigma by educating those on campus. Throughout the year, the group is oftentimes seen at outreach events and partners with local coalition MATFORCE (also a Parents Commission Subgrantee). Christian, one of the students participating, said that they met peers at Northern Arizona University at a recent Student Health and Wellness Summit and participated in a panel discussion about making better health choices. They also found that talking to students in the classrooms was more effective than being a part of the Club Rush to recruit students.

I. Subgrantees Update

Ms. Morales shared that on May 7 she and grant auditor David Suda conducted a site visit at Friendly House and on May 23 at Southwest Behavioral Health Services. Three additional site visits will be held in June at Apache County Youth Council (6), Community Bridges (7) and MATFORCE (13). She added that the purpose of the site visits is to ensure that the subgrantees are adhering to their commitments of the grant, but also to open the lines of communication and provide support from the GOYFF administrator. She also added that the next Parents Commission meeting will be held at Summer Institute in Flagstaff and encouraged all commissioners to attend.

J. Announcements

Commissioner Cox, Chair, opened up the floor for announcements.

Keven Bushaw from Arizona State University's Center for Applied Behavioral Health Policy shared about their upcoming Summer Institute in Flagstaff.
